“Love is the Bridge”

(Rick Dinitz)

(Verse 3)

Love with all of your heart, with your entire soul
Love with everything you’ve got
Set these words on your heart so they don’t get cold
Show love in little ways, but show it a lot
Love as you sit, and love when you walk
Teach a way to love whenever you talk
Sing your love at dawn; repeat it every night
See the One in one another—and unite

Don't you know that...

Love links you to the eternal Source
Got to feed that love every day, of course

Love Love Love
Is the bridge between you and everything

“Love is the Bridge”

(Rick Dinitz)

(Verse 4)

You can love Justice and Truth, or you could love to draw

You can be like Ruth, and love your mother-in-law

You can love to dance, or love to sit by the wall

But if you don't love yourself, you can't love nothing at all

You can love to be right, or love to be kind

But if you love to hate, you know that's not a good sign

'Cause when you love an idea, you make it part of yourself

So if it isn't worthy, toss it back on the shelf

Love Love Love Love

Is the bridge between you and everything

Love Love Love Love

Is the bridge between you and everything

Love is a bridge to your ideal

Love gives you the power to make it real

Love Love Love

Is the bridge between you and everything

(Outro)

Love Love Love Love Love (wooo!)

Is the bridge between you and everything
